

The background of the entire image is a high-speed photograph of three wine glasses. The leftmost glass is filled with red wine, and a splash of red wine is captured mid-air above it. The middle glass contains a light-colored wine, possibly rosé, with a splash of the same color above it. The rightmost glass is filled with white wine, with a splash of white wine above it. The splashes are dynamic and create a sense of movement and freshness.
